Hi David,

I'm not feeling well and will be going home.

Patti's NEPA/404 document missed the mark and isn't something the Corps agrees with. It's not too surprising that Reclamation would have a fundamental misunderstandings of our regulatory program as all our permit discussions concerning the BDCP have been with DWR (the now disbanded DHCCP Group led by Paul Marshall). The document is a good illustration of the wide distance we need to get Reclamation and DWR to move across in order to get this process to work, and why the Corps and EPA have very grave concerns over the chances of success for the BDCP.

I still am waiting solicitor review, as is EPA. We'd like to limit the discussion of the document today to 1) The Corps and EPA does not concur with it, and 2) we'll have follow up meetings in the near future. I'd also suggest you limit its distribution and mark it as draft. Probably the best next step would be for the Corps and EPA to give you a regulatory 101 meeting, and then focus efforts on an MOU rather than work on edits to Patti's paper.

Consider the item added. We will have to start on time and be efficient, as I am supposed to be on an renewable energy panel a bit after 10:00.

David -

Could I add to this nice long agenda? I'd like to touch on the Corps DEIS under review for the Sac Ship Channel. As we've been preparing our comments, we've been communicating with the Corps, but since our comments will include impacts to smelt habitat and potential effect on operations, I'd like to summarize this for the other agencies. - Karen
